

Contact Judge Executive Craig Clymer

Call or email the McCracken County Judge Executive's office and make one clear ask: impose an immediate moratorium on permits, site plan approvals, and development applications for this project until a truly independent, cumulative environmental and economic impact assessment has been completed — one that looks at all current and proposed development on and adjacent to the Superfund site, together, not in pieces.

"Hi, my name is [NAME] and I'm a McCracken County resident. I'm calling to ask Judge Executive Clymer to impose an immediate moratorium on permits, site plan approvals, and development applications for the GLE uranium enrichment project and related development on and adjacent to the Superfund site — until a truly independent, cumulative environmental and economic impact assessment has been completed. No agency is currently required to look at all of these projects together, and I believe that needs to happen before anything moves forward. I'd like this call noted for the record. Thank you."

That's it. You don't need to answer questions or debate anyone. If they ask for more, it's fine to say: "I just want my request on the record."

Subject: Request for Moratorium on GLE-Related Development Pending Cumulative Impact Assessment

Judge Executive Clymer,

I am a McCracken County resident writing to ask that you impose an immediate moratorium on permits, site plan approvals, and development applications related to the GLE uranium enrichment project and all associated development on and adjacent to the Paducah Gaseous Diffusion Plant Superfund site.

My request is straightforward: no further approvals should move forward until a truly independent, cumulative environmental and economic impact assessment has been conducted — one that evaluates all current and proposed projects together, not separately.

No agency is currently required to do this. That gap is a serious problem, and it should be addressed before decisions are made that cannot be undone.

I ask that this correspondence be placed on the record.

Respectfully,
